

NO. 13,050 13RD YEAR

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1914

HUERTA RIDES TIME TO THE COUNTRY

S. Considers Elections in Mexico Are Void; Not Popular Expression

SITUATION IS UNCHANGED

Much Depends on Outcome of the Villa-Carranza Conferences

WASHINGTON, July 6.—As viewed from Washington tonight, the Mexican situation appeared to be at a standstill, so far as plans for the proposed conference between the contending factions over Mexico's internal affairs was concerned.

It was generally believed here that no arrangements for such a meeting could be made until the conference at Torreon between Villa's and Carranza's generals has concluded and adjustment of differences between the constitutionalist leaders. This probably will consume several more days.

Angels Case Bore of Contention

The case of General Angeles, Villa's chief of artillery, whom General Carranza recently denounced, is now said to be the chief matter of contention between the constitutionalist leaders.

Agents of General Carranza here in communication with the first chief at Saltillo and also received reports from the Carranza-Villa conference at Torreon which he insisted all internal troubles of the revolution would be amicably settled and the evolution would go forward on a firm basis than ever with a perfect understanding as to the part each of the generals is to take.

Election May Be Held Void

Dissemination of reports of yesterday's election in that part of Mexico controlled by Huerta in which General Huerta is said to have been reelected, though such a scant vote that the election may be declared void, caused no excitement.

President Wilson smiled when the election was referred to and declined comment upon it. There was an insistent report, however, that the election was designed to pave the way for a strategic move on the part of General Huerta. The rumor still persisted that he contemplated turning the price over to Pedro Lascurain and saving the country. Unofficial reports were circulated that a special train bearing members of General Huerta's family and families of some of his generals had left Mexico City during the day for Puerto Mexico.

VILLA AND CARRANZA AGENTS IN DEADLOCK OVER REBEL PROGRAM

EL PASO, Tex., July 6.—The Villa-Carranza conference at Torreon was in a hopeless deadlock, according to reports here tonight. It was said that both Carranza and Villa delegates had demanded the elimination of certain advisers of both the Constitutional commander-in-chief and his northern zone commander to which neither side would agree. Practically all of Carranza's cabinet and most of his advisers had been requested to resign. It was said. It was reported tonight on good authority that General Carranza had issued an order expelling Gen. Felipe Angeles from the Constitutional army. This was taken as a retaliatory measure against the Villa faction after their action in confiscating national funds and imprisoning Carranza's officials at Juarez. Angeles recently was reported as secretary of war in the Carranza cabinet and it was said was one of those mentioned by the Carranza delegates at Torreon whose elimination was required.

INDIANAPOLIS COUNTRY CLUB DESTROYED BY FIRE

INDIANAPOLIS, July 6.—The main buildings of the Country club north-west of the city were destroyed by fire late this afternoon, causing a loss of $50,000. The club recently purchased new quarters and preparations were already under way for the new year.

SENATE CONFIRMS NOMINATION THREE RESERVE MEMBERS

Jones Tells of Relations With the International Harvester Co.

State Historical and Natural History Society. Three of the members of the board nominated by the president, Charles H. Hamlin, W. P. C. Harding and A. C. Miller, were confirmed today by the senate.

The nominations of Paul M. Warburg of New York and Thomas D. Jones of Chicago have not been acted upon by the banking and currency committee, and probably will not be before the end of the week. It was stated in high official circles tonight that Mr. Warburg would ask the president to withdraw his nomination. Members of the banking committee thought Mr. Warburg's communication to officials here several weeks ago indicated a desire to have his name withdrawn, but Acting Chairman Hitchcock tonight telegraphed an invitation for him to appear Thursday and submit to the committee's questions. It was suggested, however, that Mr. Warburg probably would decline the invitation and that this would be followed by an announcement from the White house that the nomination had been withdrawn.

Three Soon Take Oath

Mr. Hamlin, Mr. Miller, and Mr. Harding take the oath of office within a few days and the work of setting in motion the new federal banking system can begin at once. The secretary of the treasury and the comptroller of the currency are ex-officio members of the board, which consists of seven members. The five will constitute a quorum to do practically all preliminary business.

Mr. Jones was before the committee for nearly four hours today to tell about his relations with the International Harvester company and the New Jersey Zinc company, both so-called trusts.

Report on Jones Case

Senator Hitchcock was authorized to give out the information secured from Mr. Jones. His report in substance was:

Mr. Jones appeared in answer to the invitation to the committee and was asked questions about his relations with the International Harvester and Carranzistas eventually arranged the belief prevails that will be held in New York. Meanwhile, the American commission, Messrs. Lamm and Mr. Lehmann, remained in Washington ready to resume their work. Minister Naon also awaits favorable reply to the mediators' notes, while Ambassador De Gama and Minister Suarez, the other mediators, are ready to take up mediation again as soon as the proposed joint conference can have been held.

HOME RULE BILL IS AMENDED BY LORDS

Would Nullify Effectiveness of Local Self Government in Ireland

LONDON, July 6.—The house of lords today passed by 213 to 10 the second reading of the bill to amend the Irish home rule bill.

That the house of lords would pass the bill in order to amend it in committee was a foregone conclusion, but there was surprise that only 10 "diehards" could be found to vote for Lord Willoughby de Broke's motion for its rejection.

The Marquis of Crewe, in closing the debate for the government, challenged the opposition to guarantee that there would be no civil war in Ireland, even if the bill was amended totally excluding Ulster. Concerning the possibility of a solution by conference, if dropping the amending bill and breaking down the government's policy was to be a preliminary, it would be impossible for the government to accept it, but short of entailing such a sacrifice, the government was most anxious to facilitate a conference, he said.

Would Exclude Ulster

For himself, he did not hesitate to say that if John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, William O'Brien and two or three other Irishmen could get together it would argue better for some permanent arrangement than any other kind of a conference.

After division was taken, notices of several amendments were handed in providing for the exclusion from home rule of the whole of Ulster.

The amendments, if carried, would make the exclusion of the whole province of Ulster absolute, without any referendum or election, and the excluded province would be placed under the jurisdiction of the new secretary of state in the imperial parliament, whose administrative orders would require the sanction of the British parliament.

Volunteers Active

The increasing probability of an amicable settlement of the home rule question has not been allowed to interfere with the speedy organization and the equipping of the rival volunteer forces in Ireland. Dublin tailors have been overwhelmed with orders for uniforms for the Nationalist volunteers.

It is reported that 200,000 rounds of ammunition were landed today on the County Down coast under the noses of the destroyers patrolling the coast. This ammunition was for the Ulster volunteers and was concealed in 500 bags on board a collier.

SUNDAY TALKS TO STATE CONVICTS AT CANON CITY

TELLS THEM THEY CAN LIVE DOWN PAST

Asks Men at Penitentiary to Quit Old Bunch When They Get Out

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

CANON CITY, July 6.—The convicts of the Colorado penitentiary had their hearts softened today by an inspiring sermon from Billy Sunday, the famous evangelist. This was Mr. Sunday's first visit to Canon City since 1906, when he held revival services here. The evangelist and his party motored from Colorado Springs early this morning and spent the day here in renewing old acquaintanceships and taking the various scenic trips in this vicinity. They returned home this afternoon.

The party was taken to the top of the Royal Gorge and also traversed the two miles of the Sky Line drive. At noon they were entertained by Warden Tynan with a dinner on the lawn at the penitentiary.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Sunday spoke to the prisoners and some 100 residents who were present on the invitation of the warden. At the close of the talk scores of the prisoners raised their hands as a sign that they wished Mr. Sunday to pray for them. The talk of the evangelist made a deep impression on the men, being the bare and tears were shed by many as the speaker drove home some truth, or drew some illustration that fitted into the lives of the prisoners. The sermon was based on the text, "And this man cried and the Lord heard him."

Can Live Down Past

In talking to the convicts Mr. Sunday said:

"Boys, you can live down your past. Don't think that when you get out everybody will avoid you. You can avoid a wood pile. You can live down your past just as surely as others have. You'll find influences that'll help you grow square, or you'll find influences that will pull you back with the old gang, if you let them."

"A man can live down his past if he will meet squarely and firmly the influences that drag him down. It's up to you whether you go straight after you leave these doors, or whether you'll go back to the old life. It's the love of Jesus Christ that will keep you right."

Told of Conversion

At the close of his sermon Mr. Sunday launched into the story of his own conversion and his life as a baseball player. Illustrating various plays on the diamond, he declared that all men who get with him on a Chicago street corner 25 years ago, just a few minutes before he had been converted, had died from drink, with the exception of one who was now insane from smoking cigarettes. He added:

"I believe nothing blocks the way of a man to hell like the loves of a wife and a child. And nothing can put courage into a man like little arms about his neck. Men, when you get out of here you've got to go straight. You can win if you only try. You will find people to help you out. If you really want them to. That's what I've come here to try and encourage you to do. You won't get back to the old crowd when you get out. This is my real day, but I can do anything you help you I'm mighty glad to do it. Men, let Jesus lead the way and you won't go far wrong."

Sunday's Closing Prayer

Mr. Sunday here broke into his closing prayer:

"Lord, help the bunch here. I don't know anything about the circumstances that brought them here, but every man himself knows how his foot slipped. The devil can make more promises and fulfill less than anybody else in the world. Lord, make every man here able to say when he leaves these doors that he's leaving them for good. Let him say, 'Good-by, pen, good-by, beer, good-by, iron bars, good-by of you if they want to, but I am going to leave you forever.' Lord, bless them all."

U. S. AGENTS ARREST CHINESE SMUGGLERS

Distributing Station Found at Saginaw, Mich.; Several Taken Into Custody

SAGINAW, Mich., July 6.—What is believed to be a distributing station maintained by men engaged in smuggling Chinese into the United States, was raided here tonight by government officers and local police and six Chinese were arrested, charged with being in this country unlawfully.

A seventh, whom the officers believe is the leader of a smuggling syndicate, is under police guard in his laundry. Officers say he will be arrested as soon as a warrant can be obtained tomorrow morning from the federal court in Bay City.

The Chinese under guard is Lee Sing Jon, a brother of Joe Lee, a Chinese interpreter in the United States government secret service, with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Williams Resigns; Talked Too Much

WILLIAMS RESIGNS POST IN BALKANS

Asked to Quit by President Wilson; Case Is Without a Precedent

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Formal announcement of the resignation of George Fred Williams as minister to Greece and Montenegro was made late today at the state department. Secretary Bryan issued this statement without comment:

"Mr. Williams requests Secretary to tender to the president his resignation as minister to Greece and Montenegro. He says the reason for his resignation is that he cannot comment on the situation in Albania as he would like under the restraint imposed by his diplomatic position and that he does not feel that he can conscientiously keep silent with the knowledge which he has of what is being done."

He says that Mr. Williams the success of the president more important to the world than all of the efforts of other men and does not wish to embarrass him and wishes to thank him for the consideration which has been shown him."

Will Be Accepted

President Wilson is expected to accept the resignation tomorrow and close the brief and extraordinary career of Mr. Williams as a diplomat.

Aroused over press dispatches continually quoting the minister as bitterly criticizing conditions in the new kingdom of Albania and arraigning the responsible European powers, the president caused his resignation to be asked for by cable last Friday night. It is understood, however, that Mr. Williams, foreseeing the inevitable, already had the resignation on the way to Washington.

Case Without Precedent

This case is said to be without precedent in the history of the state department. It is not recalled that an American diplomat representative ever before has gone outside of his post to discuss the affairs of another country.

In the present instance, the comment was regarded by the state department as peculiarly untimely and ill-considered because of the extreme jealousy with which the European powers have guarded the tangled Balkan problem from the injection of new elements.

Mr. Williams, who was a member of congress years ago, is a lawyer and was appointed to the diplomatic service from Massachusetts. He is a close friend of Secretary Bryan.

Suppress I. W. W. Plan of Police

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 6.—One aftermath of the dynamite explosion which wrecked a Harlem tenement house on Saturday, killing four persons, was a conference of police officials today at which a campaign to suppress the activities of anarchists, Industrial Workers of the World and kindred agitators was planned. Of the four who met violent death Saturday, Arthur Canon and Charles Berg were reputed to be I. W. W. members and Carl Hansen was allied with anarchists.

NEW YORK, July 6.—One aftermath of the dynamite explosion which wrecked a Harlem tenement house on Saturday, killing four persons, was a conference of police officials today at which a campaign to suppress the activities of anarchists, Industrial Workers of the World and kindred agitators was planned. Of the four who met violent death Saturday, Arthur Canon and Charles Berg were reputed to be I. W. W. members and Carl Hansen was allied with anarchists.

An immediate result of the conference today may be a decision by the city authorities not to grant a permit for a public funeral for Canon, Berg and Hansen in Union square next Saturday. Alexander Berkman, anarchist, has announced that his followers have arranged for such a funeral, with a march through the streets to a cemetery. He has claimed the bodies which are in a private morgue near Union square.

It was suggested that the police would request the health department (Continued on Page Two.)

CRIPPLE CREEK TO ASK SETTLEMENT OF S. L. STRIKE

15 STRIKERS AND TWO GUARDS ARRESTED

No Ill Feeling, but Sheriff Takes Action; Local Situation Quiet

While the local situation in the strike of trainmen of the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad remained unchanged yesterday, Cripple Creek experienced a flurry of excitement over the arrest of 15 strikers, charged with intimidating employees and picketing, and the arrest of two nonunion men, said to be guards, on charges of carrying concealed weapons. Three of the largest mines in the Cripple Creek district closed down yesterday because of a shortage of fuel and lack of storage capacity for ore, due to the fact that the Short Line has been unable as yet to completely resume freight service.

Sheriff von Paul of Teller county yesterday issued a statement to the effect that he would allow no picketing or any interference by strikers and would not permit anyone to carry concealed weapons on either side. Six deputy sheriffs were given commissions by Sheriff George Birdsall here yesterday on request of the railroad.

Von Paul last night stated that the commissions of the guards would not be honored in Teller county if arms were carried by the men. He also refused to grant any commissions in Teller county.

Mass Meeting to Be Held

Owing to the curtailed transportation facilities, Cripple Creek citizens have become alarmed over the situation, many men being out of work because of the mines closing down. A mass meeting will be held here tonight to discuss plans for a settlement. Whether both sides of the controversy will be in attendance was not known last night.

As far as Colorado Springs is concerned the strike has caused but little excitement. The railroad yesterday ran the regular passenger train, a freight train to the district and received a train of ore here. A switch crew was put to work here and another at Cripple Creek. More men are being employed daily by the company.

Union officials in speaking for the men state that they will still maintain their position. They declare that the union does not favor violence of any sort and that none will occur.

Will Not Give In to Union

The walkout was declared on a principle, declared Mr. E. Carey, vice president of the Order of Railroad Conductors yesterday, "and we will stand (Continued on Page Two.)"

BANKERS ASK FOR DRASTIC REFORMS

Edward H. Doyle of Michigan Says Business Depression Is About Over

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 6.—"To enforce the hundreds of miles of statutes now written on the books, it would require a hundred attorney generals, a thousand district attorneys, a million policemen and at least a billion dollars," declared Eugene L. Richards, New York state superintendent of banks, before the thirteenth annual convention of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks here today.

"Never before in our history, in the turmoil between socialism and frenzied finance, has there been a louder call for real men in public life, men who will act from expediency, but from conviction, unmoved by passing clamor or personal ambition. What we need is men, not measures."

Asks Bank Reform

Pleading for more drastic banking business reform, Edward H. Doyle, commissioner of banking for Michigan, in his annual address as president at the opening session today declared that officers of banks must be prohibited from engaging in outside business, directly or indirectly, especially in connection with concerns which were borrowers at banks in which they were interested.

"The psychological moment has arrived," said Mr. Doyle, "when systems in use for many years must be revised, chiefly because of the new currency bill which, in my opinion, is one of the best laws ever enacted and will prevent money panics for all time."

Outlook More Hopeful

In speaking of the business outlook generally, Mr. Doyle said he hoped "the present business depression has turned the corner and that the banks may use the enormous sum of idle money at fair rates."

President Wilson, it was announced, has requested the association, which represents nearly every state in the Union, to frame regulations by which the banking laws of the various states would conform to the new regional bank act. A delegation from the association will report the result of their efforts to the federal reserve board.

The convention will continue tomorrow.

GOVERNOR WILL GO WITH EXCURSIONISTS TO INSPECT FARMS

El Paso County Agricultural Trip Attracts Several Prominent Men

Governor Ammons, members of the state land board, Prof. H. M. Cottrell, commissioner of agriculture for the Rock Island, G. W. Martin, general agent for the same road, C. E. Daniels, immigration agent, W. H. Lauck, county agriculturist, and many prominent business men of the Pikes Peak region will form part of the excursion into eastern Colorado to be held under the auspices of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce, leaving Colorado Springs Friday morning at 8 o'clock.

The tour will be made by auto and more than 40 machines will leave here Friday morning to cover 125 miles of important farming section in the eastern part of El Paso county. The trip has been arranged so that the members of the party will be given a chance to see the development of the country's agricultural possibilities and several halts will be made for demonstration purposes, and at Ed Wagner's the party will stop for a pit stop and grain-cutting demonstration.

Will Take Moving Pictures

Moving pictures of the pit stop in operation and of the grain cutting will be a new feature of the excursion and arrangements have already been made by County Agriculturist W. H. Lauck to that end. This will be the most important half of the day, although several other stops have been arranged where the members of the party will have an opportunity to meet the farmers. The Ladies Aid society of Union Hill vicinity has made arrangements for a picnic dinner at this point.

In connection with this subject it was virtually decided by the state board yesterday in Denver that 100 acres of land with the lease and privilege to purchase 160 more, would be the smallest amount that could be sold to farmers, instead of the 640 which they formerly desired, as the minimum. This decision was reached after much argument on the part of several prominent agriculturists.

AUTOISTS STALLED IN MOUNTAINS ABANDON CARS AT ESTES PARK

DENVER, July 6.—Hundreds of automobiles, stalled by a storm in the neighborhood of Estes park since Saturday, began arriving today. It was reported that 50 deserted machines line the road to Estes park and that accidents were numerous.

Mrs. H. C. Campbell and Mrs. R. T. Rogers were injured when the machine driven by Mr. Campbell skidded and turned over 10 miles from Fort Collins. Mrs. Campbell received internal injuries and a fractured rib. Dr. S. Wright and Mrs. Wright of Loveland were injured when their machine got beyond control at the Weldon bridge.

D. O. Saylor came to grief on the Llewellyn Poudre road when his brake refused to work and his car slid backward down a steep incline for a distance of 250 feet, struck a rock and turned over.

D. & R. G. TRACKS WASHED OUT BY CLOUDBURST AT FLORENCE; WATER IS HIGH

FLORENCE, Colo., July 6.—A cloudburst occurred in the vicinity of Echo, near here, and is reported to have washed out the Denver & Rio Grande railway bridge. The water there has spread for 600 yards on each side of the tracks. The west embankment of the river is entirely washed away.

JAPAN HONORS AMERICAN; IS GIVEN IMPERIAL BURIAL

TOKIO, July 6.—The funeral of the late Henry Willard Denison, legal adviser to the Japanese department of foreign affairs, was held today under imperial auspices. The body was escorted by troops and buried beside that of Count Komura, who, as foreign minister, was Denison's close friend.

An imperial mandate issued today voiced the sorrow of the Japanese government and dwelt upon the great services rendered by Mr. Denison in the promotion of international relations before the late Japanese foreign minister, Baron Kato, the foreign minister, and George W. Guthrie, the American ambassador, were among the pallbearers.

BALLOONISTS WILL KNOW WEATHER CONDITIONS

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—Weather reports from all parts of the United States will be telegraphed to the balloon field here next Saturday afternoon shortly before the national elimination race starts in order that the balloon pilots may have an accurate knowledge of atmospheric conditions to aid them in navigating their craft.

CARNEGIE MAY GIVE MILLIONS TO EDUCATION

Has Indicated Willingness to Aid in Establishing the Rural Library

WOULD BE BOON TO NATION

N. E. A. Convention in Bitter Political Struggle at St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 6.—An earnest plea in behalf of the woman educator by President Joseph Swain, recommendations for radical changes in the present public school system, discussion of a plan for the establishment of libraries to cost $100,000,000 in the country districts to which Andrew Carnegie may be the chief contributor, and activities of convention politicians marked today's session of the National Education association.

Information that Mr. Carnegie may contribute liberally to build libraries in country districts were made by Philander F. Claxton, United States commissioner of education.

"Mr. Carnegie was interested in the proposal," Mr. Claxton said, "and asked me how much money it would require. I told him probably $15,000,000, and possibly $10,000,000. He is determined to give his money away and the poor and here is an opportunity."

Need of Libraries

He city a county that had established a library for which Mr. Carnegie paid the cost of the buildings. The county levied a tax to maintain it.

"Twenty-five years ago," Mr. Claxton continued, "the first Carnegie library was established. The progress in building has been greater since that time than in all the years previous. Nevertheless, 70 per cent of the people of the United States still are without access to good libraries."

There are 2,200 counties in our nation with no public libraries, and only 76 counties where the people have access to libraries which are almost unlimited. I talked these conditions over with Mr. Carnegie and told him of the need of libraries in country districts. From what he said, I have reason to believe that if counties make the proposition to him that cities make, he will let it. If he will erect the buildings, Mr. Carnegie would do his share."

Plauds for Woman Educator

The big auditorium was well filled when President Swain delivered his annual address, which was loudly applauded, particularly by the women delegates present, when he made such statements as:

"Pay the teachers a living wage."

"Let the women teachers vote."

"Provide a system of retirement allowances so that teachers will be contented at their work."

"Open more supervisory positions to women."

"Choose the best person for a position regardless of sex."

Proponents of the candidacy of Dr. David Starr Jordan were related when the declarations of President Swain, and pointed out that such views expressed by the administration would go a long way in bringing the support of the women delegates to Dr. Jordan, who is termed the machine candidate by the southern delegates.

"Solid South" Campaign

The campaign of the "solid south" in behalf of Prof. David B. Johnson, who is Dr. Jordan's chief opponent in the contest for the presidency of the association, was being carried vigorously forward tonight, and convention politics perhaps were more conspicuous than at any previous meeting of the association.

A proposal by E. E. Scribner of Indianapolis, Mich., for a federal bureau of education, with a representative in the president's cabinet, was well received by the convention and may be taken up by a committee.

It was announced unofficially today that those in favor of simplified spelling will make no effort to place the (Continued on Page Two.)

Roosevelt May Aid Colo. Progressives in Fall Campaign

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 6.—The Progressives of Colorado, through their chairman, Clarence P. Dodge of Colorado Springs, sent an appeal today to Theodore Roosevelt for assistance in the campaign this fall. The colonels' secretary, who saw Mr. Dodge in New York today, brought back word that the Colorado chairman wished the Progressive leader to make a campaign trip through the state.

Colonel Roosevelt agreed to see Mr. Dodge in New York Wednesday to talk over the Colorado situation, but was uncertain tonight whether he would be able to go there. He thought it probable that should he visit Colorado, he would confine his speechmaking to one address in Denver.

matter before the convention this year. President Swain tonight appointed a committee on resolutions. W. O. Thompson, president of the Ohio State university, being selected chairman. Several matters of importance immediately were taken up by the committee.

New Educational Ideal.

The Twentieth century is demanding a new ideal in education, which cries for an equal opportunity for every child, and vocational work supplies this ideal. In the opinion of Mrs. Josephine Collins, President of the National Association of Women's Educational Societies, who was the principal speaker at a session of state superintendents tonight, she said that vocational work gave a pupil a purpose in early life, led him to acquire thought and increased the mental powers more rapidly than any other course. Through vocational work many social and industrial evils would be banished, the speaker said.

The general session of the association tonight was devoted to discussion of the status of women. Mrs. Louis Kimball Matthews, dean of women at the University of Wisconsin, led the discussion. She said that the feminist movement is "as old as women are; it is merely the new name for the old attempt at self-realization." Its emergence into present-day prominence is due, the speaker explained, to the insistence upon it simultaneously and fervently by so many women in all walks of life. The result is that never before have so many women "seen visions and dreamed dreams."

Telegram From President Wilson.

A telegram from President Wilson to President Swain expressing regret that he could not attend the meeting was read at the general session.

President Wilson said in part: "Thoughtful people all over the country follow the deliberations of the National Educational Association with keen interest. The problems of education are truly problems affecting the national development and national ideals. I think no one more associated with the profession of teaching can have failed to catch the inspiration of it or to see how great a power may be exercised through the classroom in directing the thinking and the ambition of the generations coming on, or in giving a child a comprehensive view of the world and its problems. It is a task of preparation and adaptation to the future that education attempts."

Systematic instruction in public schools was suggested as a means of solving the problem of how to attain and maintain peace and good will between America and Asia. Prof. Sydney Lewis Gault of the Imperial university at Kyoto, Japan, was speaker on the responsibility of American educators in the solution of America's oriental problem.

Jews Honor Fels Despite Beliefs

DETROIT, July 6.—After considerable acrimonious discussion, a resolution extending sympathy to the victims of the late Joseph Fels, racial reformer and state tax advocate, was adopted at today's meeting of the Central Conference of American Rabbis here. An anti-prohibition resolution was tabled on the subject as consideration "was beneath the dignity of the conference."

Pres. Wilson's Former Housekeeper Released From Princeton Jail

TRENTON, N. J., July 6.—Through the personal efforts of President Wilson, a woman who was employed in his Princeton home as a domestic 18 years ago will be released from the Mercer county jail, to which she was committed on a charge of habitual drunkenness.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER BARGE TRAFFIC AGAIN RESUMED

NEW ORLEANS, July 6.—The transportation of freight on the Mississippi river from its headwaters in the Gulf was resumed today after 20 years suspension when Barge No. 5 left here for St. Paul, Minn. The barge is one of a line to be used in river traffic. It is fashioned after those used on the canal of Holland and is propelled by its own power.

by it. We desire violence and are always willing to strive for a satisfactory settlement of differences before an impartial committee. In a situation of this kind the public is the one to suffer in the end, unless matters are agreeably settled."

Warrants for the arrest of the 15 strikers were sworn out before a justice of the peace in Cripple Creek by J. T. Logan. He charged that the strikers were making threats and picketing. The men gave bond and were released. Logan and Frank Vanek were later arrested for carrying concealed weapons. The hearings will be held on July 8 and July 15.

The Golden Cycle, the Vindicator and Green were the largest mills to close down yesterday. Several of the smaller properties were unable to get coal or to have their ore carried away and laid off their men.

Van Phul's Statement.

Having talked with both sides of the present railroad strike, and listened to the grievances of the railroad officials, and the men formerly employed by them, I sought legal advice concerning the rights and duties of a sheriff in this particular matter, and acted as advised.

Accompanied by Deputy W. H. Hilbrand and Chief of Police George W. Bonney and Officer Fred L. Thompson, we met the incoming passenger train that arrived in Cripple Creek shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. Two men in the employ of the railroad company were arrested for carrying concealed weapons. Also the arrested and took into custody 15 strikers charged with intimidating employees of the railroad company. Other men were searched for concealed weapons, but none found upon them.

"As it is illegal, according to the laws of Colorado for men to gather at the various railroad depots for the purpose of intimidating members of the train crew, it is my duty to see that these gatherings do not take place, and my advice to those on strike is not to gather at the depots or in any way molest or intimidate those men in the employ of the railroad company."

"I will make it my business to be on hand at the arrival of trains and will arrest any man I find interfering or in any way intimidating members of the train crew."

"On the other hand, I think it is unwise for members of the train crew and guards to come into this county carrying concealed weapons. It is not only unwise but it is illegal and punishable for as this time. It only breeds discontent and trouble and will lead to bloodshed. This must be avoided."

No Violence Yet.

"I have been informed that the guards coming into this district have been given authority to carry concealed weapons. But I have not given them the authority in this regard. Up to the present time as far as I know, there has been no violence indulged in by either railroad employees, guards or strikers, and that being the case I consider it most unwise to issue deputy sheriff commissions to any one connected in any way with this strike. Since the strike was called I have given no commissions to any one connected with the strike, and as long as conditions remain as at present I do not intend to give commissions to either side of the controversy, but, on the other hand, if there is any violence resorted to by either party, I will meet the emergency by making as many deputations as I trust necessary to restore order."

"If any of the railroad company and to the strikers that I will protect life and I will protect property. If the future developments warrant deputizing various guards I will not hesitate but will deputize a sufficient number to give the railroad company and all concerned all the protection they may desire."

"I look upon this strike as a most serious affair. It is not the railroad company or the mine owners that will suffer the most, but it is, as usual, the innocent public. I would suggest that a mass meeting be called for the purpose of settling this strike at once. If coal and other supplies are not brought into the Cripple Creek district and the ore is not taken out of the district for treatment, one can easily see the results. The camp will starve and it will continue to get worse. A speedy settlement of this strike is absolutely necessary to the welfare of the people of this county."

There were reports that the Denver & Rio Grande was refusing to furnish coal cars to the Short Line because of the strike, but this is denied by both the officials of the roads and of the railway organizations. The Colorado Midland had a joint track arrangement over the Short Line, but states that it is to remain neutral.

It is said that state officials are to be appealed to today to take some action which may result in a settlement of the controversy.

Grievance Committees to Meet.

The chairmen of the most grievance committees of the men employed on the Colorado Midland have been called to Colorado Springs to be ready in case the men on that system decide to take action. The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe has a transfer switch but the Colorado officials of that road state that it is their intention to remain neutral. Railroad men in all sections of the country have been warned by the trainmen's conductors, engineers and firemen's brotherhoods that there is a strike on the Florence & Cripple Creek road. The company in its advertisements for men makes no effort to deceive prospective employees and states that men are wanted to take the place of strikers.

to order the bodies buried at once and in this way call off the mob and public general. If the services are permitted, it is certain that measures will be taken to prevent a demonstration attended by disorders.

Michael Murphy, or Aspent, who escaped his companions' fate in Saturday's explosion, has eluded the police. He is wanted that he may be questioned as to his knowledge of a possible plot to make use of explosives in Westchester at the estate of John D. Rockefeller, or in the Tarrytown court where Aaron, Berg and others were to have been tried today in connection with their recent anti-Rockefeller demonstrations.

Murphy was identified today as apparently the same man who twice tried to force his way into Mayor Mitchell's office a few days after an attempt was made on the mayor's life in April. He wanted to complain that a magistrate had fined him unjustly for speaking publicly without a permit.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., July 6.—Nine free speech advocates, most of them identified with the Industrial Workers of the World and all of them associates of the four victims of Saturday's premature bomb explosion in New York, came to Tarrytown today to face trial on charges arising out of the demonstrations some weeks ago against John D. Rockefeller and his son, whose estate is near here. Nearly 200 sympathizers came with them.

At the request of counsel for the defendants, the trials were put over for two weeks on the ground that needed witnesses were absent.

Agitators Held Meeting.

Followers of Berkman and friends of Aaron, Berg and Hansen met tonight at the Francisco Ferrer school, where the men who are dead gathered with others on the night before the explosion. The funeral of the three was discussed tonight and speakers sought to exonerate them from complicity in any so-called bomb plot.

If a demonstration is held in Union Square Saturday, it was stated, the police will be denounced for holding Aaron, Berg and Hansen responsible for the explosion. Murphy, they declared, had left the city.

Berg's body was identified today by Hans Fisher, as that of his brother, Peter Fisher, 23 years old, a native of Russia, successfully sailor, longshoreman and carpenter.

tions of two large business enterprises, one of which was the International Harvester company, now being prosecuted by the government as a trust. Mr. Jones said he became a director of that company in April, 1909, purchasing one share to qualify as a director. He became a director at the request of Cyrus H. McCormick, an old friend. He said he fully approved all the actions of the company since he became a director and believed they were proper, legal and within the law. Mr. Jones announced that he is in accord with the policy of the Harvester company at the present time and said that there is no difference of opinion among the directors. He receives no compensation, he said, other than the nominal directors' fee.

Relations Only Nominal.

When elected he received the votes of the voting trust which controlled the company, George W. Perkins, Cyrus H. McCormick and William Dorr. This voting trust has since been dissolved. Mr. Jones said he had nothing to lose or gain by the decision of the courts in the antitrust suit in the harvester case.

Prior to 1909, Mr. Jones told the committee, he owned and was president of a zinc company at Mineral Point, Wis., capitalized at $400,000, which came to him and his brother-in-law, Gustav, as a result of a decision of the Supreme court over the New Jersey Zinc company, which at that time was capitalized at $1,000,000, and the Jones brothers were given $300,000 in stock of the New Jersey company for their $400,000 in the Wisconsin company. The New Jersey company acquired other properties and increased its capital to $10,000,000. It now produces 20 per cent of the sulfur of the United States, 3 per cent of the sulfuric acid and 50 per cent of the oxide of zinc. As a result of various combinations, the dividends of the New Jersey company last year were $4,000,000 and the year before $1,000,000.

Over a field of 13 entrants, Lee Taylor won the recent 100-mile motorcycle race at Dayton, Ohio. His time was 2 hours 24 minutes and 33 seconds.

THE GHOST BREAKER A SCREAM BUT AUDIENCE HAS KICK ANYWAY

Duncan Shows to Far Better Advantage; Briant Keeps House in Roar

Without discussing the fitness of the thing, it is characteristic of the theatergoer to permit a minor fault or so in a production to completely overshadow all the good qualities. He is quick to grasp the opportunity to criticize, but usually waits a long time before he gives a word of praise. What remains is brought about by the attitude of the first night audience at "The Ghost Breaker" last evening.

It is the old story of long waits between acts. The intermissions last night were unusually long and the criticism would be just had the house been in operation for any length of time. However, the season opened but a week ago, giving a time hardly sufficient in which to perfect an organization. The same trouble was experienced last year, and the kick was legitimate for the condition continued throughout the season. If it is not remedied within a few days, nay, patrons of the house will have good cause to protest. But why not give the management a chance?

Another little matter. The kicks last night were made during the last act for the most part. The intermission just preceding had been the longest and the audience seemed unable to wait until the performance was concluded. So those seated anywhere but in the first few rows were forced to miss a part of the best comedy in the entire play. Why should the audience not begin finding fault at home?

Is Excellent Comedy.

"The Ghost Breaker" comes weak, but once through the first act it is a good, laughable comedy, the fun increasing with every line and reaching a climax only when the final curtain is rung down.

The opening act is the bedroom in a New York hotel of the Princess Maria Theresa, with Miss Eleanor Haber as the princess peacefully sleeping. Into the room suddenly bursts the impertuous Kentucky Colonel Duncan, attempting to engage the detective, after committing a feudist murder. In almost any other act this scene would provide an opportunity for screaming situations. However, it is handled with exposition. The princess immediately, upon learning the Kentucky's flight, engages him to come to Spain and drive the ghost from her ancestral castle and the act ends with some little comedy. The remaining three acts are filled to the brim with fun.

Duncan appears to be better acquainted with "The Ghost Breaker" than he did as Richard Ward in "The Spanish Dancer." His words are well fitted to the part, and the dancing and fearless young American and to make the audience and audience to give a good opinion of the play. The scene being acted in the last act, the trunk in which he had been locked for several hours. Again at the end of the third act, where he stops, waiting Vanek to come back and kill a man, then takes up the song where he dropped it and melodramatically stalks out. He is good.

Briant Chief Funmaker.

Duncan the most interesting personage in "The Ghost Breaker" is, of course, Roy Briant, who, until last week, but he certainly came to the front last night when he entered the role of Rusty. It was Briant who provided the larger part of the fun and his work in the last act was a scream. Incidentally, and strange as it may seem, he did not overlap the idiosyncrasies of the negro and his character could not have been much better.

Miss Eleanor Haber has no big opportunities in "The Ghost Breaker," but she makes the most of what is offered her and does it deliciously. As the Princess Maria Theresa she is decidedly attractive. She has a very pleasant, pleasing voice which she uses with excellent effect. Miss Haber, too, looks the part in a manner that so often makes her actress.

Miss Florence Redfield was another who appeared to better advantage than last week. The part of the innkeeper's daughter is small, but Miss Redfield did it excellently, and showed what she was capable of when she was a part of the entire company. In fact, the entire company was good. The players showed in much better advantage than in the opening bill, and one may expect much of them during the season.

"The Ghost Breaker" was staged pretentiously. All of the acts are heavy and unusually good. The lighting is a beauty and the tavern and room in the old castle show the skill of the scenic artist. The Burns has secured for the season.

TWO NEW YORK DIAMOND MERCHANTS ARE INDICTED FOR ALLEGED SMUGGLING

NEW YORK, July 6.—Herman J. Dietz of this city, a diamond merchant, and his son, Charles, were indicted today by a federal grand jury here on 11 counts as participants in an alleged conspiracy to smuggle diamonds into the United States. Diamonds valued at from $200,000 to $500,000 were smuggled from Canada in 1911 and 1912. Assistant United States District Attorney Roger A. Wood stated tonight. Government customs inspectors and secret service agents have been at work on the case for a year. The indictment charges the accused with smuggling stones worth upward of $100,000 between February 15, 1911, and April 1, 1912. Attempts of the accused to sell smuggled stones in this city are specified. Bench warrants will be issued for their arrest. It was announced tonight. It is understood that they are now in Europe.

FOUR ARE KILLED BY AXMAN IN CHICAGO

Murder Is Similar to Springs
Tragedy; Police Have Only
Meager Clues

CHICAGO, July 6.—That the murder with an ax of four members of a family in Blue Island, a suburb, before sunup today was not the work of the maniac who has committed a series of similar crimes in four midwestern states was the opinion tonight of detectives who have sought him for months.

In the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Misch, their daughter, Mrs. William Mansfield, and her baby, the officers assert there is nothing by which they can connect the "Axman," who is accused of more than a score of killings.

Chicago detectives have found two men who say they saw a tall, lanky man loitering in front of the Misch residence at 2 o'clock this morning. They learned from a married son of Misch that this man had paid attention to Mrs. Mansfield before her marriage and had proposed to her.

The man has disappeared. He has not been seen at his boarding house since early Sunday night. No one knew why he went away. Descriptions have been sent to the police in the principal cities in the middle west.

The police believe the murders were committed by some one familiar with the Misch home. Entrance was gained through a window, facing the front porch. The murderer crept into a bedroom where Mrs. Misch, her daughter, and granddaughter were sleeping in one bed. His aim was so accurate that from a full moon entered through two windows—that the first blow struck each victim was sufficient to cause death. The man then climbed to the attic where Mr. Misch, 75 years old, and the head of the family slept. He repeated what he had done downstairs, only there were fewer blows. The ax, which he lifted from a wardrobe in an adjoining yard, he threw aside.

29 Killed in Three Years.
 Twenty-nine persons have been murdered in the last three years in Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Iowa and Illinois by means of blows from an ax. The details of all of the murders are the same and in most of the cases the murderer's ax has wiped out entire families. All the crimes were committed at night while the victims lay asleep in their beds and in each instance the murderer left but slight clues.

A list of the so-called "ax murders" follows:
 H. C. Wayne, wife and child, and Mrs. A. J. Burnham and two children, Colorado Springs, Colo., September, 1911.

William E. Dawson, wife and daughter, Monmouth, Ill., October, 1911.

William Shawman, wife and three children, Ellsworth, Kan., October, 1911.

Rollin Hudson and wife, Paola, Kan., June, 1912.

Moore, four children, and two girls, Villisca, Ia., June, 1912.

MEXICAN CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLING CARRANZA MONEY

Several Indictments May Follow the Recent Seizure of Funds by Villa Agents

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Santiago D. Winfield, an agent of the Mexican Constitutional treasury department, was charged with embezzlement in a warrant issued here today and transmitted to the police at El Paso. Winfield was the Carranza inspector at the printing of $500,000 pesos in Constitutional currency. When he shipped it to El Paso, Carranza agents here secured an injunction to prevent its delivery to him, contending he intended to deliver it to Villa. The warrant followed; the injunction proceeding is still pending.

Others May Follow.
 EL PASO, Tex., July 6.—Other indictments may follow the one issued at Washington today charging Santiago Winfield with embezzlement in connection with the fight between Carranza and Villa agents for the possession of several millions in Constitutional fiat paper currency. This was declared by persons here who also asserted several Mexicans prominent in public affairs, had assisted in the crossing of a small amount of the money to Juarez last week.

The other warrants would be issued, they explained, under the federal conspiracy statute. Winfield was not located here today, although the city police sought him. Carranza agents declared that six trunks, supposedly containing the missing money, had been located in an express office at San Antonio, Tex. This indicated that the entire issue had not been crossed into Villa territory, although missed by Carranza agents since its shipment from Washington, where the issue was printed. The temporary injunction, holding one shipment of the money in an express office here, has not been settled in a local district court.

Federal Bills at 23.
 The election conducted at Mexico City yesterday found an adverse reaction, on the local Mexican money exchange. The federal bills were quoted today at 23 cents, their lowest figure since the landing of American troops at Vera Cruz. The Huerta money has been standing at about 35 cents on the gold dollar. Carranza national fiat currency was quoted at 23 cents, while Villa's Chihuahua state money stood at 22 cents.

Train service was resumed today between the border here and Torreon. Traffic into the interior has been interfered with by heavy rains.

George St. Clair Douglas, the British subject held by Constitutional authorities at Zacatecas, was released today. His detention had been the subject of representations to Carranza and Villa agents here by H. C. Miles, the British vice consul here. Theodore Hamm, American consul at Durango, had been requested by the state department to investigate the case. Hamm left here today to return to his post and report on the Zacatecas case.

Charged With Aiding Federalists.
 Douglas had been charged by the revolutionary officials with having assisted the federalists under General Barron in the recent unsuccessful defense of the state capital. This charge has been withdrawn, according to a telegram received here today from Manuel de la Vega, Constitutional governor of Zacatecas state. The message read:

"In the urgency of the case resulting in the investigation to establish the facts regarding the accusations against the British subject, George St. Clair Douglas, it is known that said individual was misled by Medina Barron, who making use of the customary arbitrary methods characteristic of the Huerta followers, made him write certain letters which were the origin of his imprisonment. Consequently he has been found not guilty before a court martial and he has been placed in immediate and absolute freedom."

A MEMORY OF PAPER COLLARS
 From the Boston Globe.

Wonder how many men in this city still make a practice of wearing paper collars. I don't imagine the number is very large, but when I was a youngster the paper collar was the collar that was most in vogue, and a large number of persons considered the linen collar in the light of a luxury. That only the wealthy could afford. That was in the days before handkerchiefs were as numerous as noses, and the greater part of the family wash was done at home. There must have been a lot of money in the manufacture of paper collars in those days. The demand was big, and as the collars were of no use after they had been soiled they had to be thrown away and new ones purchased.

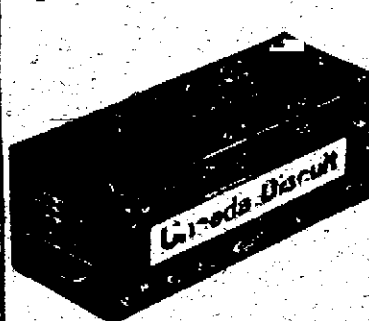

Collars came packed in a box, and the ordinary kind sold for about 15 cents, or two boxes for a quarter. There were brands that could be sold for 10 cents a box and still leave a margin of profit, and some enterprising dealers made a big box for a quarter, offering three boxes for a quarter, which was considered a wonderful bargain.

In spite of their cheapness paper collars never really suited people of fastidious tastes. After a while one manufacturer made a kind that looked very much like the real linen article and was put out in a variety of attractive styles. The only trouble was that they cost a quarter a box and as a linen collar could be laundered for two cents in those days there was no saving, unless the wearer of the paper one took advantage of its reversible form and obtained double wear from each one.

COOK AND NICHOLSON
RELEASED ON CHARGE OF ALLEGED FRAUDS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Norman D. Cook and W. A. S. Nicholson, San Francisco attorneys, who with John W. Logan of Portland, were indicted by a federal grand jury of Oregon for alleged land frauds, were discharged today by United States Commissioner Krull.

In the hearing as to the removal of Cook and Nicholson to Portland for trial, Commissioner Krull declared it had not been shown that they conspired with Logan and others to commit fraud. Logan was ordered removed to Portland nearly two months ago and his trial is scheduled to commence there Thursday.

The indictments followed an investigation by the United States authorities into the location of thousands of settlers on land totaling 2,300,000 acres, the title to which has been in dispute between the government and the Southern Pacific company.

United States Attorney Clarence L. Reames of Portland consented to the release of Nicholson but indicated that other indictments hanging over Cook will be prosecuted.

FEDERALS REVOLT NEAR VERA CRUZ

General Funston Takes Grave
View of the Situation,
Says Report

VERA CRUZ, July 6.—Word of a rebellion of the part of a large number of the federal troops stationed along the line in front of the American outposts reached Constitutional agents in this city late tonight. The advice conveying this information also expressed the fear that General Huerta would send a punitive expedition from Cordoba against the mutineers.

In order to prevent a clash between forces loyal to Huerta and those reported to be in revolt near the American line, which might result in complications with the American outposts, General Funston, Carranza's agent here, appealed to General Funston for permission to pass the lines tonight in order to instruct the mutinous troops to move rapidly away from the neighborhood of Vera Cruz, territory held by the Constitutionalists.

General Funston, who had already been informed that unusual developments of some kind were taking place within the federal lines, had given orders to the outposts to maintain unusual vigilance. He refused Carranza's request on account of the existing armistice and in order to maintain the neutral position of the American forces.

Carranza and other Constitutional agents hope to be allowed to pass the American lines tomorrow. They plan to join the revolting federalists and hope to be able to avoid any action which might bring about firing within range of the American lines.

Gets $75,000 Damages for Injuries Caused by Working Too Long Hours

CHICAGO, July 6.—A jury today awarded James B. Wilson, former conductor on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, $75,000 for injuries received after he had been forced to work 83 hours out of 72, according to testimony.

Propped up in a wheel chair, Wilson told the jurors he had been made to work three days and nights, from August 18 to 22, 1913, with only nine hours off for rest. He said that while switching a freight car to a sidetrack at Penna. Pa., on the third day he became exhausted and fell between the car and an engine. His right arm was crushed and his spine badly injured.

DISMISS DYNAMITE CASE

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Albert Schooner, United States district attorney, said today he would telegraph the department of justice at Washington for authority to dismiss the indictment against Anton Johannsen of San Francisco, charged with conspiracy to transport dynamite illegally.

Johannsen's case is one of the conspiracy judgments found in the so-called dynamite cases of 1912-13. Schooner said his action was the result of the recent action of the United States district court of appeals granting Johannsen and others a new trial.

TRADE COMMISSION
LAW MAY BE DELAYED

WASHINGTON, July 6.—When the senate resumed consideration of the trade commission bill today, indications were that a vote hardly would be reached for several days. Repeated attempts have been made by Democratic leaders to fix a time for a vote on the bill, but without success. Despite this, however, determined efforts were to be made to press for a vote at the earliest possible moment. With the trade commission bill disposed for consideration of the remainder of the antitrust program which is to be passed before congress adjourns.

BODY OF MOVIE
ACTOR IS FOUND AT CANON CITY

CANON CITY, July 6.—At noon today searchers found the body of Owen Carter, the motion picture actor of Denver, who was drowned in the Arkansas river near the Royal Gorge last Wednesday.

The body was found near the Ninth street bridge, near the center of town. The body of Miss Grace McHugh, who was drowned at the same time that Owen went under, has not yet been found.

The circumstances of the drownings were mysterious. A film was being made of the couple while they were on a sandbar in the middle of the stream. Their assistants went around a bend of the stream to prepare to bring the couple ashore, and when they next looked Carter and the girl were nowhere to be seen.

It was believed that they had attempted to wade ashore, but got caught in the quicksand and were swept under.

REGULATING TOURIST DRIVERS

AS A POSSIBLE solution of the problem of regulating the tourist drivers we suggest this plan to the Council:

Pass an ordinance granting to one concern the exclusive privilege of doing a transfer business in this city, and forbidding outside concerns from soliciting on the streets of Colorado Springs. Impose a high license fee and require the holder of the license to give bond to insure responsibility. Additional safeguards could be placed in the ordinance to guarantee the maintenance of adequate service.

This plan would do away with the individuals who now perpetually annoy visitors on the streets with their solicitations. Under such conditions the license would be granted to a responsible business concern with sufficient capital to maintain a complete line of modern vehicles of all kinds, both motor and horse drawn, to take care of the entire volume of tourist travel to the various points of interest.

The Council could establish uniform rates for all trips, and tickets could be sold with return coupons so that visitors could, if they desired, go in one carriage and return in another. For instance, one who wished to spend a part of the day in the Garden of the Gods, or the canyons, could buy his ticket, leave the carriage at his destination, spend a few hours sightseeing, and by using the return portion of the ticket, come back in another carriage when ever he pleased.

Under this method solicitation on the streets could be strictly forbidden. The drivers and chauffeurs could wear a uniform, or a cap, which would identify them to the public. Whoever wanted to rent a carriage or an automobile could apply to the first driver he met. There would be no incentive to misrepresent rival scenic attractions, as is now the case, for every driver and chauffeur would be working for one employer. And it is altogether probable that under such a system the individual employees would fare better and earn more money in the course of a season than they do now.

The proper regulation of this business has been a problem in Colorado Springs since the beginning, and it seems to be getting more serious all the time. Various councils have grappled with it in an effort to find a solution, but they have accomplished nothing. All summer long and in lesser degree in other seasons the streets are patrolled constantly by a throng of vehicles, drawn by horses in various stages of decrepitude, whose drivers insistently annoy everybody whom they even faintly suspect of being a tourist. The practice is a source of unending complaint, and there are plenty of authenticated cases where disgusted visitors have cut their stay short and left town in indignation over this sort of treatment.

Another serious aspect of the case is the impossibility of preventing solicitors from misrepresenting scenic attractions from which they are barred, or from which they do not receive commissions. Here is a typical case which occurred recently: A party of five, staying at one of the hotels, told the agent of one of the scenic attractions to reserve tickets for them for the trip. Then they started to the Postoffice, expecting to take the tickets on their return to the hotel. On the way they were solicited by a tourist driver who, on learning of their intention to take the trip in question, told them that it was "dangerous" and that the price asked was "highway robbery." She persuaded them to take another trip at a less price, promising that it was "the same thing" as the one they had intended to take. The party returned to the hotel disappointed and told the agent of the scenic attraction that they had been victimized and were sorry they could not yet take the trip as first planned, but they had arranged to leave town the next morning.

Of course the reason for this misrepresentation was that the tourist driver could not use the private right-of-way of the resort company, received no commission from it, and was therefore interested in diverting as much business from it as possible. Yet this company, like all of the concerns which operate legitimate attractions hereabouts, has invested a large amount of capital here, spends a great deal of money for maintenance, and does an immense amount of advertising in the East and elsewhere to attract travel to this region. The people who come here through its efforts are a source of profit to the entire community, for they help to make up the sum total of tourist patronage on which the welfare of the Pikes Peak Region depends.

In common justice the companies operating such attractions are entitled to protection from this form of unfair and illegitimate competition. The Council can and should give it to them, and we believe that this plan here outlined is the most practicable means of attaining this object.

ROOSEVELT'S PLANS

ANYONE who doubts whether Colonel Roosevelt will or will not enter the coming campaign, regardless of the doctor's orders, will receive enlightenment from a perusal of his letter announcing his retirement from his editorial connection with the Outlook. Says Mr. Roosevelt:

The developments of the last three or four years have rendered it imperative that I should take a more or less active part in trying to secure in the Nation and in the several States the triumph of those principles embodied in the Progressive platform of 1912. Whatever I can do, for instance, to aid in the elimination of men like Mr. Penrose, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Barnes from control of our political life, I must do. In addition, I now feel that I am in honor bound to stand in strong opposition to the Administration. I feel that as regards our international relations the policy of the present Administration has meant the abandonment of the interest and honor of America.

Furthermore, I feel that within our own boundaries the course pursued by the Administration has meant the abandonment of every sane effort to secure the abatement of social and industrial evils. Its legislative and executive program has brought about grave industrial depression and suffering to business men, farmer and wage-worker alike, although perhaps most of all to the wage-worker.

Colonel Roosevelt's antipathy to Penrose, Murphy, Barnes et al. is well known, and if anything could induce him to yield to those who want him to become a candidate for governor of New York it would be the opportunity which his occupancy of that office would afford him to purge the politics of the entire state.

His opposition to the administration at Washington, and especially to its foreign policy, has been expressed unmistakably since his return from Europe. For a year past the feeble efforts of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan to keep the State Department out of trouble have been the subject of increasing criticism throughout the country, and it only needs such aggressive leadership as Colonel Roosevelt alone can exercise to make the situation a concrete issue.

There is plenty of ammunition at hand for a vigorous Progressive attack on the administration. And it is fortunate for the country that the fight will be led in the coming campaign by the ablest organizer and most effective campaigner in the history of American politics.

INDECENT FASHIONS

To the Editor of The Gazette:
 In your issue of Sunday, June 28, you have a fashion page, edited by Miss Clara H. Simcox, who is headlined on the page as "America's greatest designer and creator of fashion." Four styles are pictured: No. 4, an evening gown, consists of a skirt, a giraffe four or five inches wide at its widest point, and a cape-like arrangement of gauze lace, an absolutely transparent material. In other words, the costume consists of a skirt. For all practical purposes, the body is invisible from the waist up.

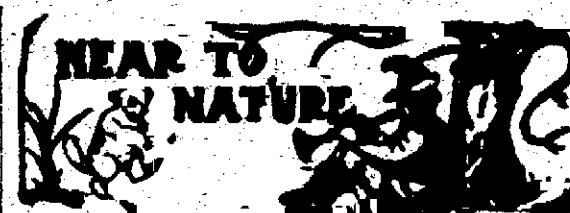

Miss Simcox assures us that "No. 4 is an exceptionally attractive mode." A few lines farther down she says "the corseage emphasizes the entire surcingle of modesty that was once considered most estimable." (The boldface is mine.) At the bottom of the page she advises, in large type, "Before adopting any new style, interpret its meaning and see if it is a fitting expression of your personality." Evidently, the exceptionally attractive personality is one which finds its fitting expression in an entire surrender of modesty.

Practical knowledge of life and all the teachings of psychology show us that such statements, coming from such authority, spread broadcast through the wide circulation of a reputable newspaper, constitute a force for the lowering of ideals which is not to be ignored. What are we to do about it? The acceptance of such ideals threatens the very existence of the nation itself. All history goes to show that in the last analysis the force by which a nation rises or falls is not political or economic, but moral. Ultimately women are the keepers of a nation's morals. It has become a platitude that no nation rises higher than its women.

In the name of America and American women I protest against such styles and their exploitation by respectable publications. Who will join me? If women, individually and through their organizations, would register their protest with the various fashion houses and magazines the wave of indecent fashions now sweeping the country could soon be checked. Apparently decency and patriotism are empty terms to the designers of extreme styles. Money, however, is a living power. It is from women, their patrons, that they receive their money, and women can stop this sort of thing if they will. To do it is an act of intelligent patriotism, not to do it is criminal neglect. AN AMERICAN WOMAN.

ARBITRATION

BY GEORGE FITCH

Author of "At Odds Old Siwash"

Arbitration is a process whereby two or more nations get together and discuss whether to shoot a hundred thousand men or let them die a natural death.

This does not mean that the hundred thousand men have committed any crime. It means that the governments which they support have large armies.

"Where two or more nations get together and discuss whether to shoot a hundred thousand men or let them die a natural death."

and capable, as well as excitable, battlerships. This makes it so difficult for these nations to discuss anything between each other in a reasonable manner. It is as difficult as it is for two men, each armed with a pair of magazine revolvers, to settle a dispute over a mining claim by looking up the law. A nation which owns a battlership is just like a small boy. It simply has to fire at something now and then.

When two nations arbitrate they state their cases and let the judges do the rest. This undoubtedly produces much pain to the nation which loses, but the pain is not in a vicious sort as it is in the case of the men who would otherwise have to fight it out.

Arbitration is becoming more popular because of the reluctance of the general public to fully forth and get shot up just because a few stiff-necked officials cannot agree. There was a time when a monarch could order out a hundred thousand men when he had a sore toe and felt heevish and could ease his proud spirit by licking a neighboring country; but that time has gone by. Peevishness is no longer an excuse for war and said excuses are getting scarcer every year. When a king orders out an army of subjects to be killed, nowadays, he has to do some tell explaining or lose his job. The king business is getting poorer every day and most of the chaps who thirst for war have gone into the mining business in Colorado where arbitration and other new-saws of civilization have not yet been discovered.

Some people think the United States should not wait for other nations to disarm but should sink its battlerships and then attempt to arbitrate with the world. This, however, is the same kind of arbitration that the lamb put up to the lion who wanted a dinner. A great many small countries, with no armies to speak of, have tried arbitration with large hungry nations, and the verdict has always been delivered by the large hungry nation in advance of the evidence. Until the rest of the world disarms, the more battlerships we have dotted off and ready for business when the arguments begin, the more respect we can secure for peace and politeness.

MAN EYE WITNESS TELLS ABOUT LUDLOW

Mrs. M. H. Thomas, who came over this country two years ago with her husband and two children from Wales, and who was a resident of Ludlow, Tenn., during the trouble in the coal fields, spoke to a small crowd in the court house last night and gave a version of the incident. Mrs. Thomas was an eye witness and was in the tent colony at the time of the disturbance.

General Angeles, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many General Villa's public manifestos are attributed to him.

MANY COME TO HEAR SUNDAY, BUT CAN'T GET BACK TO HOMES

Associated Charities Called on to Help Poor; Blind Men Stranded Here

Some idea of the publicity that Billy Sunday is bringing to Colorado Springs may be gathered from the fact that the Associated Charities has had several cases lately where it has been asked to help stranded strangers who made long journeys to hear the celebrated evangelist.

Two blind men, from their desire to hear Sunday and also to win their way east by playing and singing in front of the tabernacle, found that they would not be allowed to do so. They heard the evangelist, but found that they had no means of getting home. The Associated Charities, with several good friends, came to their aid and a purse of $40 was made up to send them home.

At almost the same time a man with his wife and daughter, found himself in nearly the same predicament as the two blind men. He had made the stop to hear the famous preacher and had only a very small sum of money in his pockets. This he found insufficient to get him home, and three more enthusiasts, who had come from a long distance to attend the services, found they could not leave. Charities rates were procured for them, however.

Deserted by her husband, a woman and three children are left stranded in Colorado Springs, and, despite the efforts of Billy Sunday and the committee at the tabernacle, she has not been able to get enough money to go to her home in Milwaukee. While the collections were being taken at the tabernacle several days ago it was announced that $50 more than the running expenses of the tabernacle was needed to defray the cost of a ticket home for the woman and her children. After this collection had been taken, it was found that even the running expenses had not been met, and that the woman probably did not receive some of the money that had been put in the plates, with the idea that it would aid her.

CLAIMING DECEIT, SUES FOR DIFFERENCE IN LAND VALUES

E. E. Grubb Asks $3,800 Damages From F. W. Henley; Irrigation Rights Basis of Suit

A suit for $3,800 damages for alleged deceit has been filed by E. E. Grubb in the district court against Fred W. Henley. The suit grows out of a transaction in the summer of 1912, when, Grubb says, he exchanged two lots which he owned in Colorado City for 40 acres of land which Henley owned in Pueblo county, and 40 shares in the Chisosa Park Land and Irrigation company. Throughout the transaction, Grubb claims, J. H. McDowell acted as Henley's agent, inducing him to make the trade, he alleges, McDowell represented that the land was irrigated, that it was supplied with suitable ditches which were used to irrigate it, that Henley owned ample water rights represented by the shares in the Chisosa company to irrigate the land, and that the company had plenty of water in storage, which he could use to irrigate the land.

These representations, Grubb claims, were false. He charges that Henley did not own sufficient water rights to irrigate the land at all, that the land was not irrigated land, but arid prairie land; that there were no such ditches on it as McDowell represented; that the shares in the Chisosa company did not call for sufficient water rights or water to irrigate the land; that the company did not then or since have water to supply its shareholders.

The land, with water, Grubb claims, would have been worth $4,000. As it really is, he alleges, it is worth only $200. He is suing for the difference.

FIND LOTTERY HANDBILL PRINTED IN CITY'S INFANCY

Workman Discover Old Dodger on Sheet of House at 119 East Rio Grande Street; Printed in '73

A handbill advertising a lottery, printed in 1873, when Colorado Springs was only two years old, has been found, City and discovered by rain, where it was taken 41 years ago.

Representatives of the real estate firm of Johnson and Allen, who were tearing down a house at 119 East Rio Grande street, found the bill a few days ago, tucked to the sheathing beneath the siding of the house. It was shown yesterday to James M. Bolton, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce and Stationery company, and Bolton at once remembered distinctly of printing bills with the wording it contained.

The bill, which is a lottery, at which John Laberdy was to dispose of his horses, wagon and harness. It reads:

LOTTERY!
The undersigned offers his Horses, Wagon, and harness.
By Lottery, Wednesday, October 3, 1873.

The drawing to take place at the El Paso hotel at 7 o'clock P. M. Tickets for sale at Second Hand Store and at my Shop on Cascade avenue.

JOHN LABERDY.
The house at 119 East Rio Grande street probably was partly finished at the time the bill was printed. The man who was delivering the bills, tucked it to the sheathing of the house. Afterwards the siding was put on, and the bill was nailed in to stay for 41 years.

At that time, and for many years afterward, there were no houses in the city north of Pike's Peak avenue, and the chief residence section of Colorado Springs was east of Cascade avenue, and several blocks south of Pike's Peak avenue.

DUSTLESS STREET SWEEPER MAKES GOOD IN TRYOUT

Vacuum Process Will Allow Department to Thoroughly Clean Pavements in Daytime

Tests were made yesterday morning and again last night, before the rain, by officials of the street department of the new vacuum street sweeper, which the city is planning to purchase for use on the pavements. The machine showed up well under the tests yesterday. It was tried out again this morning if the weather is good and the city probably will conclude the purchase.

The new machine, which is drawn by two horses, sweeps by a vacuum process. The city has purchased the machine conditionally on its proving satisfactory under the tests. If it is finally taken it will cost, including freight charges, about $2,500. J. R. Pollock of Long Beach, Cal., the builder of the machine, has come to this city to demonstrate it, and will remain here until the city accepts or rejects the sweeper.

Superintendent R. A. Brakes of the street department said last night that the machine seemed very satisfactory so far. It threw up scarcely any dust, he said, and the exhaust air from the fan is driven through water before it is released. This water sprays out nearly all of the dust which remains in the exhaust air. The machine sweeps a strip 12 feet wide, and with it, Brakes said, the city will be able to sweep all the pavement carefully in a period of eight hours.

The contract for building the new concrete arch bridge over the Fountain river on the Colorado to the Gulf highway at Buttes bids for which were opened by the county commissioners last week, has been awarded to the Pueblo Bridge company. The successful bidders, with estimates of $11,680 for a concrete girder bridge and $13,875 for a concrete arch bridge, gave the lowest prices of any of the six companies which competed. The highest of the other estimates was one of $16,523 for the concrete arch bridge.

Work on the new bridge will be begun within 10 days, the county commissioners stated yesterday. The bridge will be completed within about 60 days after that. The commissioners, with J. H. Maloney, secretary and engineer for the state highway commission, Engineer W. P. ## BUTTE RIOTERS ARE ARRAIGNED IN COURT

Mayor Duncan Reported to Be in Worse Condition From Wounds

BUTTE, Mont., July 6.—Six men, recently arrested on charges of rioting and participating in disturbances and riotous conduct in and around Butte, were arraigned today before District Judge Michael Donlan for arraignment. The prisoners were brought into court in two squads under a heavy guard of deputy sheriffs.

The court appointed an attorney for "Red" Foley, arrested on a charge of looting of $1,000 from the Western Federation of Miners' safe after it had been dynamited by a mob. Foley informed the court that he had no money with which to employ counsel. Bond of $5,000 was fixed and Foley was sent back to jail, being given until the first Saturday in August to enter his plea.

The cases of James Allen and Tom Nolan, arrested on a charge of participation in a riot, were continued on a question of jurisdiction. Both are out on bail.

William Leurey had his little child in his arms when he entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

John Tomich and Mike Muller pleaded not guilty to a charge of robbery and bonds were fixed at $5,000 each. The two are accused of robbing the Stewart mine of dynamite which it is alleged, was afterward used in the wrecking of the miners' union hall.

The condition of Mayor Lewis J. Duncan, who was stabbed last Friday, tonight was reported as worse, although the attending physician said his condition was not dangerous.

DETECTIVES REENACT THE BAILEY MURDER

Mystery of Woman's Death Still Unsolved, Despite Official Activity

FREEMONT, N. Y., July 6.—The murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, who was mysteriously killed in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman last Tuesday night, was dramatically reenacted today by the head of a national detective agency who has been employed by the officials of Nassau county. The chief arrived today with 10 of his detectives and immediately went to the Carman home, where he examined every part of the house and grounds.

After the chief had been in the house half an hour, he returned to the lawn and the murder was reenacted with the chief acting the part of the murderer. Two of his men inside the office took the parts of Dr. Carman and Mrs. Bailey. No apparent results have been obtained from the staging of the tragedy as it is supposed, to have occurred.

The inquest into the murder of Mrs. Bailey was adjourned today until Wednesday. This action was taken to give the authorities a chance to investigate several new clues and to look into the story told last night by Dr. Carman, who informed the police that a bicyclist who had followed his automobile from Rockville Center, near here, had fired three shots at him while he was driving along a lonely stretch of road.

Witnesses Questioned.

It was learned later from Sheriff Pettit that after it had been decided to adjourn the inquest, two witnesses, whose identity the sheriff refused to disclose, had been examined for over an hour behind locked doors. The sheriff refused to discuss his conversation with these witnesses, further than to say that their statements were of the highest importance.

Four persons living near the spot where Dr. Carman said the attempt was made upon his life told investigators this afternoon that they, too, had heard shots. Detectives were unable, however, to find anyone who had heard the shots, which J. W. Hall, Jr., a resident of Lynbrook, a neighboring village, said were fired at him early this morning, while he was driving his automobile outside of Freemont. Hall, who resembles Dr. Carman in figure and face, is the owner of an automobile of a type similar to one of the several owned by the physician.

Inquest Adjourned

The inquest was adjourned after several witnesses had been heard. Two of these witnesses, Miss Hazel Combs, a patient of Dr. Carman, and Miss Anna Kahn, a friend who accompanied her to the office of the physician, less than an hour before Mrs. Bailey was murdered, flatly contradicted Mrs. Carman's statement that she was not walking around the ground floor of her home that night, was not in her husband's office and had not admitted any patients who called.

Both these women swore they had seen Mrs. Carman enter her husband's office to answer the telephone, and they corroborated the testimony of George Golden, the witness who testified Friday that Mrs. Carman had admitted him to the house.

Maid Has Lapse of Memory

The corroborations combined with the testimony given by a negro maid in the Carman home constituted what was declared by District Attorney Smith to be the most important information elicited during the day's proceedings. The maid, who admitted that she had a long talk with George Levy, counsel for Mrs. Carman, the morning after the murder, appeared to be troubled with a serious loss of memory. To many vital questions, she answered: "I don't remember."

When asked if she knew what perjury meant, she asserted that sometimes she could remember events and sometimes she could not.

What the inquest is ended on Wednesday, not the grand jury, it was announced today, will begin an investigation of the murder on its own accord when it meets the following day.

Dr. Carman this afternoon obtained a permit to carry a pistol. In making application for the permit, he told a justice of the peace he feared another attempt would be made to kill him and that he needed the weapon to protect himself.

To Select Rhodes Scholars Annually

LONDON, July 6.—With the object of giving to Oxford university a new contingent of American students every year, the Rhodes trustees today announced a change in the method of electing scholars. Instead of as hitherto choosing from 48 states in two consecutive years and skipping the third year, the scholars will be chosen yearly in future from two-thirds of the states.

The 16 states to be omitted at the 1916 examinations are Arizona, Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Louisiana, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina, South Dakota, Utah, West Virginia and Wyoming. From those states scholars will be selected in 1917, when another 16 states will be omitted.

HOPE TO SETTLE ELECTRICAL STRIKE DURING THE WEEK

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—Offices were opened here today by agents of the Westinghouse companies, whose plants are affected by the strike for the purpose of filling the 10,000 or more vacancies in the shops. It was reported in East Pittsburgh that a determined effort would be made this week to break the strike. Troopers of the state constabulary still were on duty in the town, scores of pickets watched every entrance to the factories and all seasons were opened, but there was no disorder.

The woman's team is making a tour of the country and has won 12 out of 26 games played. Lomax will probably be in the box tomorrow.

RITCHIE AND WELSH MEET TONIGHT IN LONDON FOR LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE

About to Let His Hand Left Jab Go to the Face. Dressed for the Opera. Ready to Drop His Short Straight Right to the Jaw.

Willie Ritchie expects to be hailed lightweight champion of the world tonight. This is the date of his 20-round contest with Freddy Welsh, the British champion. Of course, Willie would probably insist that he is now champion of the world, and many persons who accept prizefights as a matter of themselves credit him with the title.

Those persons who have watched him and Welsh have little doubt that Ritchie will return to the United States the world's champion. They think he can whip any lightweight fighter. Welsh beat him once in Los Angeles. At a moment's notice, and of course, without opportunity to train, Ritchie was called on to make the place of Ad Wolcott, who had been stricken with appendicitis. He jumped into the ring and lost the decision. He was then a novice and Welsh was a finished professional.

Now Ritchie is a finished professional and Welsh is getting older and staler. London will turn out an enormous crowd for the fight. The Olympia, where it is to be held, will be jammed. It is said that estimates have been made that the receipts will amount to $100,000. Ritchie will fight for 50 per cent of the gross with a guarantee of $15,000. If there is a second audience he will get a record prize and fight.

What the Press Agents Say

EMPRESS

"The Heart of a Crook" is at the Empress today. Al Metz is accused of horse stealing. He gets away from the sheriff and boards a freight train bound for New York, where he robs the New York National bank. Fearing that he will be caught, he goes to the central station with the money on his person. While there a number of emigrants come in, among whom is a young German girl. As he is afraid he will be caught with the money, he deposits it in the bundle of the German
